Kennedy Okays Wheat Sale To Reds

Grain Won't Go To Cuba, He Explains

Declares Pending Transaction Good For U.S. Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given the green light for the private sale of millions of bushels of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc countries.

He made it clear that the grain was for use only in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe—not in Cuba.

His decision, which in so many words he said was just good business for the United States, drew both sparks and cheers.

The reaction ranged from Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond's denunciation that it amounted to "arming our enemy," to Vermont Republican Sen. George Aiken's view that "the deal should prove beneficial to both the United States and the people of the purchasing nations."

In announcing his decision at his press conference Wednesday night after weighing both the political and economic problems involved, the President noted that more such transactions may be in the works.

The Soviet bloc countries, he said, "may also wish to purchase from us surplus feed grains and other agriculture commodities," and he added: "After consultation with the National Security Council, and informing the appropriate leaders of the Congress, I have concluded that such sales by private dealers for American dollars or gold, either cash on delivery or normal commercial terms, should not be prohibited by the government."

Kennedy did not specify how many bushels and how many dollars would be involved in wheat sale.

Kennedy did cite a figure as an example to show how the United States could benefit from the transaction. He said:

"The sale of 4 million metric tons of wheat, for example, for an estimated $250 million, and additional sums from the use of American shipping, will benefit our balance of payments and gold reserves by that amount and substantially strengthen the economic outlook for those employed in producing, transporting, handling and loading farm products."

However, Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, who was among congressional leaders briefed by Kennedy before his announcement, said the authorization cleared the way for wheat sales of $350 million to $400 million.

Humphrey said some 4 million tons of grain would go to the Soviet Union, and one million tons to Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Some other legislators said the sales are expected to total 7 million tons.

Bodies Of 12 GIs Recovered After Air Crash In Viet

SAIGON, Viet Nam. (AP) — The bodies of 12 Americans killed in crashes of two U.S. Marine helicopters Tuesday were recovered late today, military authorities reported. It was the heaviest loss of American lives in one operation since the United States started its military buildup in South Viet Nam in late 1961.

Aboard the two H34 helicopters were four Marine officers, five enlisted men, a Navy doctor and two Navy hospital corpsmen. The bodies were being taken to Da Nang, a coastal city where the Marine helicopter squadron is based.

A military spokesman said the cause of the two crashes is under investigation by a team flown into the area today. One unconfirmed report said the helicopters collided in the air.

The two helicopters were on a search mission for a Vietnamese air force plane that crashed in a dive-bombing attack earlier Tuesday, 50 miles southwest of Da Nang.

The Vietnamese plane carried an American officer and a Vietnamese officer. They are listed officially as missing.

The area has been heavily defended by the Communist Viet Cong, who turn withering ground fire on planes there.

Before the crash, 60 U.S. servicemen had been killed by guerrillas in South Viet Nam and 53 died of other causes.

It was not immediately determined whether the two helicopters had been shot down. Searchers reported they found no bullet holes in the first wreckage they reached. But they would not rule out the possibilities that the aircraft were brought down by fire. They said both helicopters were badly wrecked.

Kennedy Hits Rumors CIA 'Bucks' Policy

'Wholly Untrue,' He Says Of Agency In Viet Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says speculation that the Central Intelligence Agency has backed administration policy in South Viet Nam is "wholly untrue" and does the CIA an injustice.

At his first news conference in nearly five weeks, Kennedy also confirmed Wednesday that John Richardson has been transferred from his old post as chief of the CIA mission in South Viet Nam. He called Richardson "a very dedicated public servant" and he gave no reason for the transfer, nor said where Richardson would serve.

The early-evening session with 258 reporters also produced:

A presidential announcement that the government will permit private businessmen to sell some $250-million of surplus wheat to the Soviet Union and her European satellites. Acknowledging that "there will be some who will disagree with this decision," Kennedy said it is "very much in the interest of the United States."

A Kennedy statement that he thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona can capture the 1964 Republican presidential nomination—if he passes a preconvention test of "his endurance and his perseverance and his agility."

A restatement of official opposition to military coups in Latin America, coupled with rejection of the idea of using American military might to thwart them. Short of the use of force, Kennedy said, the United States was powerless to prevent recent coups in Honduras and the Dominican Republic.

A disclosure by Kennedy that the Soviet Union has made no response to his Sept. 20 proposal that this country and the Soviets mount a joint expedition to put a man on the moon by 1970. Kennedy said the subject might come up at a late-afternoon conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

An assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to reduce the 40-hour work week.

A statement that the administration is watchfully concerned about recent price increases in steel, aluminum, heavy chemicals and electrical equipment.

Probers Eye Legal Side Of Valachi Story

Mobster Completes Testimony About Crime Syndicate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mobster-informer Joseph Valachi's story told, Senate probes concentrated today on the legal side of the fence for a police account of the murderous Cosa Nostra crime syndicate.

In five days of testimony ending Wednesday, Valachi has detailed for the Senate Investigations subcommittee the wheels within wheels of the New York-based mob hierarchy and contended its arm reaches to Detroit, Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

The subcommittee announced Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards is taking the stand as an expert witness, to be followed in subsequent weeks by spokesmen from many cities who will describe what they know about the syndicate.

President Kennedy has nominated Edwards to become a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals. Edwards continues in his police post pending Senate action on the nomination.

Valachi capped his testimony with a witness-stand confession that he engineered the 1962 murder of a New York mobster, Eugene Giannini, who had been spotted as an informer for the federal Narcotics Bureau. Valachi showed no sign of remorse as he told of assigning professional gunmen—his "sharpshooters"—to commit the murder.

"Senators, I am testifying without immunity (from prosecution)," the 60-year-old mobster said. He is a convicted New York narcotics racketeer, also serving a life term for murder, and claims that now he, too, is under a Cosa Nostra sentence to be slain as an informer.

Valachi said he had volunteered to handle the Giannini killing, and that it had the sanction of New York mobster Vito Genovese, whom he calls Cosa Nostra's dominant figure.

Valachi named these cities, in addition to New York and Detroit, in which he said Cosa Nostra maintains "families" or mobs, and the number of men in each of them:

Philadelphia, about 100; Boston, 18 to 20; Chicago, about 150; Cleveland, 40 to 50; Los Angeles, about 40; Tampa, about 10; Newark, about 100; Buffalo, 120 to 125; Utica, 40 to 100; New Orleans, "very few." He gave no figure for Detroit.

PICKETS IDLE 2,500 AT AREA POTTERIES

3,000 Die In Massive Landslide

Crashes Into Dam In Italy; Flooding Covers Four Towns

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—A massive Alpine landslide plunged into a deep, four-mile long reservoir in the night and hurled a tidal wave across the Vaiont Dam upon sleeping villagers in the Piave River Valley. Hundreds perished in the boiling flood.

Three hundred bodies had been recovered by dawn and U.S. Army authorities who hurried to help said Italian sources estimated there were 3,000 dead.

Four towns with more than 6,000 residents virtually were wiped out and two hamlets on the edge of the reservoir disappeared in the catastrophe.

"The sight was just simply terrifying," said Dino Menardi, one of the first pilots to view the desolation. "I have never seen anything like it—not even in horror dreams."

Through it all the 873-foot-high concrete dam—the world's third highest—apparently stood intact. It is part of a hydroelectric complex.

Reconnaissance by a squadron of four U.S. helicopters led by Maj. Harvey C. Mayse of Westchester, Wash., refuted officials' initial reports that the wall of water had collapsed the dam.

"The landslide that plunged into the reservoir apparently caused a huge overflow," Mayse said. "From the air, the dam appeared to be in one piece."

The biggest and hardest hit of the towns was Longarone, with a population of 4,600.

Surviving officials there estimated their dead alone at 1,500 to 1,700. The community was virtually leveled into a barren, rock-strewn stretch of sand and mud. The vanished hamlets were St. Martino and Viaspese.

Vice Prefect Carlo Prestamburgo said Cadisago, Rivalta and Pirago, with a total population of 1,500 were wiped out.

Several other villages including Castellazzo, with 1,000 inhabitants, were flooded as waters raised the level of the Piave's upper reaches by 16 feet.

Dozens of bodies tumbled and turned in the flood toward the Adriatic through this area of normally green cattle pastures, vegetables, fruits and sparkling red wine. Some were found in the mud ashore. Countless others were buried deep under rocks and sand.

PICKET LINE AT HALL'S. These sign-carrying pickets barred the entrances to the Hall China Co. plant this morning and similar lines prevented employees from entering the three other major dinnerware plants in the East Liverpool area, idling a total of about 2,500 employees. The men display signs identifying themselves as members of IBOP Local 141, the laborer's union which has been involved for nearly two weeks in a dispute with the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Old Dispute Over Firing Flares Again

Stoppage Follows Warning By IBOP, Orders To Return

Production was shut down or curtailed severely today in all four major East Liverpool area dinnerware plants, idling an estimated 2,500 workers, after picket lines were thrown up at the firms in a new flareup of a dispute that grew out of a work stoppage at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Although the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters issued a new announcement Wednesday night asserting it would not "support or condone" strike action and instructing its members to report for work as usual, the sign-carrying pickets forced a halt in work at Laughlin's, the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker China Co. and Hall China Co.

Identified As Local 141

Some of the pickets carried signs identifying themselves as members of IBOP Local 141, the laborer's union in which the original dispute with Laughlin's flared up Sept. 27.

The general picketing began as a joint union-management discharge committee was reviewing the discharge of five members of Local 141 as an outgrowth of the dispute at Laughlin's.

Unable to reach agreement, the committee of four IBOP and U.S. Potters Association spokesmen sent a telegram yesterday to the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service asking it to furnish the names of seven or eight men from whom an arbitrator could be named.

The arbitrator named by both sides would hear all facets of the issue and then issue a finding that (Turn to STRIKE, Page 5)

Ohio Soldier Defected, Red Report Says

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany claims a U. S. Army master sergeant attached to an intelligence office defected and asked for political asylum.

The U. S. Army's European headquarters at Heidelberg confirmed one of its men had been missing since he crossed into East Berlin Sept. 24 for a one-day visit. But the Army could not confirm he had defected.

The Army said the missing man was M.Sgt. Willard E. Valentini, 35, of the 504th Signal Battalion at Mannheim, West Germany. The Army said he is from Lorain, Ohio.

The official East German news agency ADN did not name the defector but said he had been a member of the 504th Signal Battalion stationed at Mannheim. It said he was attached to the Battalion's S-2 officers, who handles intelligence.

The Army said Valentini was assigned to the signal battalion's motor pool. They said he had been living with his wife and four children near his post.

Butler Seen As Successor To Macmillan

Lord Hailsham And Maulding Top Foes Of Deputy Premier

BULLETIN
BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced today he would not be able to lead the Conservative party at the next general elections.

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Richard A. Butler emerged today as the favorite to succeed stricken Harold Macmillan at the helm of the British government and the Conservative party.

As Macmillan recovered from prostate surgery today in a London hospital, his party's leadership crisis moved toward an open trial of strength between Butler, 60, and two chief rivals.

The rivals are Lord Hailsham, 56, science minister, and Reginald Maudling, 46, chancellor of the exchequer.

The battle was being fought so far mainly on the fringes of the party's annual conference, which opened in Blackpool Wednesday in an atmosphere of confusion caused by Macmillan's unexpected illness.

In the Tory headquarters hotel there were intense consultations and canvassing into the early hours today.

U.S. Scientist Wins Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (AP)—A Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to scientist Linus Carl Pauling, a U.S. foe of nuclear tests who long has been a center of controversy in his own land.

It is the second Nobel Prize for the professor of chemistry at the California Institute of Technology.

The 1963 peace prize will go to the International Red Cross Committee and the League of Red Cross Societies.

Mayor Urges Water Saving At Wellsville

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville today called for the curtailment of the use of water because of the low level of the city's reservoir.

The water has dropped 10 feet. Because of the unusual dry conditions, the level at the reservoir now stands at 38 feet. The critical level is about 35 feet.

A close watch has been kept on the reservoir for the past week. The level has been dropping steadily.

The mayor urged residents to co-operate in the curtailment and said they are not to wash cars or water lawns.

He asked that no unnecessary use be made of the water, pointing out that if all co-operate, the curtailment should give the city at least 20 more days before the "critical" stage is reached.

It is hoped that it will rain before then. At least 3 to 4 inches of rain is needed to bring the reservoir back up to the normal level of 48 feet, according to figures given the mayor by employees at the filtration plant.

A very light rain was registered Sept. 12. There has been none at the reservoir since.

The mayor also pointed out that it is impossible to lift the ban on burning at present. The dry condition have created a fire hazard and should a fire break out, it would mean the use of water, he commented.

The ban is ordinarily lifted at this time of year to permit residents to burn leaves and garden refuse.

Macmillan Operation Reported Successful

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today underwent a successful operation for the removal of his prostate gland.

A hospital bulletin said there were no complications after the hour-long operation and that his condition was excellent.

Macmillan, 69, entered King Edward VII Military Hospital Tuesday night after experiencing severe pain during a Cabinet meeting.

One Hurt In Blast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two employees were blown clear out of the W. C. DeLille Co. factory in south Columbus when a series of explosions struck Wednesday, but only one man was injured—he not severely. The two were the only ones on hand at the plant when the blasts and resulting fire wrought an estimated $125,000 damage.

Intruders Get Portable TV's Worth $1,192

Eight portable television sets worth a total of $1,192 were taken in a burglary early today at a downtown store and a Pleasant Heights woman reported she was the victim of a strongarm robbery in which two men took her purse containing $3. police said.

The burglary was discovered at 4:20 this morning at the Good-year Service Store, 653 Walnut St., by Patrolman J. A. Walsh, officers said.

The intruder hurled a brick through a pane of glass in the front door, then removed four General Electric TV sets with 11-inch screens each valued at $129, and four more GE sets with 19-inch screens worth about $169 each.

William Brophy, assistant manager, said the sets were taken from the store's window and showroom. Apparently no other major appliances were taken, but a check was being made to determine if any smaller items were missing.

The company's original report to police listed only three sets as missing. However, a further check disclosed the disappearance of five more.

A similar technique was used early Wednesday at a Klondyke furniture store, but the intruder apparently was frightened away before he obtained any loot. The Adkins Furniture Store on Harvey Ave. was entered by breaking a rear window with a brick. However the owners, summoned by police, could find nothing missing.

The strongarm robbery was reported at 4:38 this morning by (Turn to BURGLARY, Page 5)

Kennedy Due Parley With Soviet Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy receives Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today on a new crest in U.S.-Soviet relations aided by presidential approval of American wheat sales to Russia.

It was only a year since Gromyko's last White House visit—Oct. 18, 1962—after which Kennedy bitterly accused the Kremlin envoy of a false statement denying the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba. The ensuing crisis verged on a nuclear showdown.

Kennedy, in a late afternoon appointment, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with morning luncheon and evening dinner engagements with Gromyko, were expected to press again for withdrawal of those Russian troops who still remain in Cuba.

But a spreading thaw in the cold war has set in over the past 12 months following the Cuba missile withdrawal, highlighted by the hot-line communications link with Moscow, the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and Wednesday night's Kennedy go-ahead on selling U.S. wheat to Russia.

Tax Facts

Using a $7,000 appropriation from income tax funds, the city paid more than 50 per cent of the expense of a low cost surfacing project on nearly 35 streets during 1963. The tax also provided $1,500 for oiling of dusty streets and $5,000 for a protective seal coat for streets previously blacktopped.

Lunch was served by William McKnight and Lawson Miller. The group will meet Nov. 13.

School Group To Elect During Lisbon Dinner

LISBON — Election of officers is expected to be held when the chief school administrators of Columbiana County meet Friday noon at the Wick Hotel.

School problems will also be discussed, according to County Supt. James L. McBride, who will preside for the first session of the new term.

Work Begins On City's New Street Lights

A contractor has launched work on one of the first phases of installation of a new system of fluorescent street lights in the downtown area.

The Plate Excavating Co. of near Wellsville is making holes in the sidewalk areas throughout the shopping district where new poles will be installed as part of the system.

Approximately 60 new metal poles will be installed as part of the system. They will be 30 feet high, about 6 to 7 feet higher than the present "white-way" light standards.

Each will support huge four-unit fluorescent lighting fixtures designed to increase the illumination of business district streets many times over.

The Ohio Power Co., which holds a city contract for the new system, said it expects the lights will be in service by mid-November if weather, material deliveries and other factors permit.

The East Liverpool Merchants Association sponsored the movement that led to plans for the new system. Under its urging, owners of business property signed a petition agreeing to pay special assessments to make up the difference in cost between the present system and the new installation.

Approximately 107 pieces of business property are affected.

Vote Board Explains Rules On Early Ballot

The County Election Board cannot accept applications for absentee or disabled voters' ballots for the Nov. 5 general election unless they are signed by the voter or some members of his family, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, explained today.

In enforcing the regulation, the board is acting under orders from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the clerk explained. Friends of voters and members of political clubs have attempted to obtain the ballots, but their requests cannot be honored under the new policy, he added.

The board is required to give a serial number to each application and enter it on the record upon issuance as another way of seeing the regulations are followed, O'Hanlon explained.

21 At Meeting Held By Mt. Nebo Grange

LISBON — Twenty-one attended the meeting of the Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday evening in the Grange Hall on Route 45 north.

Mrs. Harold Sebrell, lecturer, used "Vacations" as her theme, and it included group singing with S. D. Bailey pianist, and who also told of attending the Tri-State Historical Society's seventh annual steam engine display at Burgettstown last month; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Frantz described their visit to Cook's Forest and Mrs. Merrill McPherson told of a trip over the Skyline Drive.

Next meeting is Oct. 23.

Stubborn Fire Believed Out

It looks like it's finally out! This was the word today on a stubborn brush and woods fire that had been burning in Liverpool Township off Stagecoach Rd. for two weeks.

A 35-acre area had been burned over in the fire which started Sept. 25.

The Liverpool Township East firemen were called to the scene again yesterday afternoon about 3 when a brush pile ignited inside the perimeter of the fire. They also poured more water on some smoldering embers.

Charles Heffner, an investigator and fire-fighter for the Ohio Forestry Division, was not called.

A bulldozer was used twice to ditch around the fire in an attempt to halt it.

Heffner was called yesterday afternoon to fight another brush fire at Pine Grove Ridge, near Hammondsville. The men remained on the scene until after dark.

Heffner said the state's spotting plane will cover this area at least once a day in an effort to catch fires before they gain too much headway.

Wider Hospitalization Plan Offered To City

An improved hospital insurance plan has been offered city employees by Associated Hospital Services, Inc., of Youngstown, administrator of the Blue Cross plan, Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate said today.

The concern, which holds a contract for hospital and medical service insurance, advised the auditor the change would cost employees 18 cents more monthly under the family plan and 9 cents more monthly for the individual plan.

In the new plan, hospital insurance coverage would be provided 365 days a year, Applegate said. At present, the coverage provides payment for 120 days in the hospital, then there is a 90-day "break" before the 120-day coverage goes into effect again. Applegate said further details are available at his office.

Chester Fire Drills Directed By Firemen

Fire drills were held at three Chester schools Wednesday by firemen as part of the annual "Fire Prevention Week" program.

Assistant Fire Chief Alton Johnson said the Central School was evacuated in 80 seconds, the Washington Building in 35 seconds, the morning session at the high school in 93 seconds and the afternoon session in 75 seconds.

Inspection of business places and industries is slated this week.

Trucker Fined $25

NEW CUMBERLAND — Delvin H. Cunningham of Ft. Wayne, Ind., a truck driver, was fined $25 and costs Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron for operating a truck without a public Service Commission permit. He was cited yesterday on Route 30 by West Virginia State Police.

Not Helpless, Just Paralyzed

There is doubt about the validity of some of the Valachi testimony before Senate investigators—and the doubt is out of proportion to certainty about other testimony the imprisoned gangster is giving.

It is certain the conditions he is describing existed when he said they did. His memory about details may be murky. But he is correct in the over-all outline of criminal activities in New York City in the 30's. The story has been told before. It's old. It has been told about New York, Chicago, Detroit, New Orleans, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

IT IS THE story of this nation's big cities being caulked by criminal gangs specializing in all the common varieties of organized vice and some uncommon ones for good measure.

It is the story of public authority in these cities standing on the sidelines while the wolves and jackals of the nether world prey on citizens who have no defense.

It is the story of illegally obtained funds being used to corrupt police departments and law enforcement officials.

It is the story of tainted money being poured into political campaigns, bidding for renewal of licenses to steal from the helpless, to cater to the lawless and to undermine the decency of American society.

GOVERNMENT is not helpless per se in the face of this sinister subversion. It is made to seem helpless only by the way criminal elements paralyze its power to defend itself. They do this by using their easy money to buy off public officials of easy virtue.

This is the part of the story the Senate questioners should try hardest to hammer out of the gangster trying to prolong his misspent life by squealing on his pals before government questioners. It is the part that never has been brought into the open.

Difficult Decision

The announcement of the parole of Cleveland's "Red Slipper" killer has been met with a conflict of emotions.

The parents of the young man, 19 at the time of the slaying of his college sweetheart 10 years ago, are overjoyed at the prospect of their son's return.

The family of the slain girl, on the other hand, are presumably upset and bitter to think that the man who took their daughter's life will be free after so short a time.

A PAROLE BOARD, in granting or disapproving a parole application, cannot include emotions in its deliberations. It must make its decision on the basis of the merits of each case.

Upper most in these considerations are these: Will the continued incarceration of the individual serve any useful purpose? Will the individual, if released, be likely to become a useful citizen?

Should a life that could be salvaged and put to good use be kept behind bars on an "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" basis?

Should a 19-year-old boy be held accountable for the rest of his life for a mistake he might not have made had he been older and more mature of judgment?

Safety And Good Work

The relationship between industrial safety and good quality of work was revealed by a safety consultant during a visit at Pittsburgh this week.

Lawrence C. Howe of Birmingham, Mich., reported on a Northrup Corp. study which showed that every time the accident curve goes down, the quality of work on the production group improves.

Similarly, when the number of rejected parts increased on the inspection tables, there was a corresponding rise in on-the-job injuries.

The conclusion is that the slipshod workman is careless, and carelessness results in accidents.

This should be a vital concern for both worker and employer, for injury accidents not only result in pain, handicap and loss of money for the working man and his family but in loss of production and expense for the firm.

Today's increasingly complex work tasks demand not only efficiency, but more and more regard for safe practices. Employers must constantly strive to keep job hazards of all types at a minimum, and workers must follow established safety practices at all times.

Safety education carries over to the home, where the majority of American accidents actually occur. Conscientious safety procedures on the job can serve as a guide for similar prevention of injury mishaps for the worker's wife and his children.

Save Our Sweeper

The police department can take another bow for its part in the railroad crossing thriller which found the city's stalled mechanical street sweeper facing an untimely end at the hand of two on-rushing freights.

When the SOS—Save Our Sweeper—was flashed the police moved quickly into action. Through their efforts the sweeper was pulled from the track in one piece and the freight trains were able to go on their way without another crossing accident chalked up against their record.

This latest effort demonstrates once again that an efficient police force is a valuable asset.

For men who couldn't read or write, and trained 200,000 of them. Of these, 85 per cent passed the course and went on to serve as soldiers.

A SAMPLING of these once-illiterates showed that a fourth of them rose to the rank of corporal or better, and a considerable number won decorations.

Another encouraging study is reported by the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

It found that the first time some 200,000 school children were given a minimum physical fitness test, about one-third of them failed. After 12 weeks of rather simple exercises, over 80 per cent could pass.

American children have ranked behind European youth in fitness. But there now come reports that the children in West Germany are getting soft and flabby as their country waxes fat and prosperous.

The West German children, say these reports, are going in for rich food and driving around in Volkswagens.

Cuban Disaster Offers Anti-Castro Opportunity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The United States has an opportunity to help the people of Cuba, who have just suffered devastation of their farm lands by a hurricane.

To grant aid at this time would make an indelible impression on the people of Cuba, for they have been repeatedly told by Castro that this country is hostile to them. The mere fact that the United States government is ready to put aside its formalities in dealing with a country whose government isn't recognized diplomatically would create inside Cuba a feeling that the Cuban nation has not been abandoned by the people of this country. It would be a reminder of the friendly spirit exhibited 85 years ago when the United States sent its armed forces to help emancipate the island from Spanish oppressors.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., a state which is caring for many Cuban exiles—is a staunch antagonist of Castro and his government, but nevertheless says in a statement that he favors aid to Cuba through the American Red Cross.

He declares that, if permission were granted by the State Department here, the United States need not deal with Castro or his government. He adds: "I believe that such an act of friendship would demonstrate to the Cubans that we bear no ill will toward them as people even though we remain steadfastly opposed to their form of government."

Because the United States is close by, it can furnish aid promptly. If some such move isn't made, the Soviets might well take advantage of the situation and come to the rescue of the Cubans, if only for propaganda purposes.

ON THE PROPAGANDA side, however, the United States has a greater opportunity than does the Soviet Union. The people of Cuba know that, in the long run, their interests are more closely interwoven with those of this country than with the distant government in Moscow.

There has been, as a matter of fact, very little communication recently between the people of Cuba and the people of the United States.

Except for the help given Cuban exiles and the sending of food and medicines in exchange for the prisoners held for ransom, there has been dependence on radio broadcasts to convey to the Cubans the information that the people of the United States are still interested in their fate.

The sudden destruction of sugar, coffee and tobacco crops by the hurricane will have a serious economic effect in Cuba, even though aid is rushed to individuals who have been made homeless.

The opportunity now is presented for the formulation of a comprehensive plan of economic aid and development for the Cuban people. This could be widely publicized so that the residents of the island will come to realize how much better off they would be if they could somehow get rid of Castro.

IT'S a broad chance for an important move on the policy front which could perhaps hasten the day of a revolution to overthrow Castro. He himself would be caught in a squeeze. If he shunned America's offer of aid, he might unwittingly even light the fire of a revolution.

However distasteful it might be to him, he might be taking less chance by letting the supplies come onto the island than by refusing them.

It wasn't Cuba alone, of course, which got hurt by the hurricane. Haiti's loss of life and property has been extensive. The United States maintains friendly relations with Haiti and will expedite help to that country, for which the American people will be glad to contribute through the Red Cross.

Again and again in recent years, assistance along humanitarian lines has been given to peoples in Latin America and elsewhere when earthquakes and other disasters have occurred.

THE QUESTION naturally arises whether the export of American wheat to the Soviet people wouldn't come in the same category of humanitarianism even though it's a commercial sale.

The United States doesn't need the money from the sale, and the government here could block it. There's always the possibility, however, that the United States could begin to negotiate an agreement with Moscow to end the "cold war." The prospect could be held forth of an even larger program of economic cooperation than the sale of wheat.

Certainly diplomacy should be busy these days at governmental levels, but the favorable impressions created by letting peoples everywhere have food from America offer propaganda advantages inside other countries.

And it is, after all, the feeling of friendship other peoples come to have toward the United States which must in the long run cause them to dissent from the policies of autocratic governments.

Then came the question period. Opposition leader Jim Bausch has guts, too. He said to the general president: "It seems to me you are setting up for a nationwide strike with this."

Hoffa was angered by this rebuff right out in the open. He retorted that he was not going to give up the possibility of a strike. He snapped, we are not letting the possibility go by; we are not telling anybody we won't have a strike. This is our weapon.

Then came the vote. Only two were against Hoffa.

In that room they were alone. But they will not be so at the membership meetings of that local — nor will men like them stand alone at a series of rank-and-file meetings all through the East.

The revolt is on.

Anti-Science Reaction

By Stuart H. Loory

A white pamphlet titled "Science, Scientists and Politics" rests prominently on the conference table in the office of Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, science adviser to President Kennedy. Dr. Wiesner cannot miss bringing his eyes to rest on that pamphlet several times during the course of a typically busy day.

And each time, his hackles rise because the document contains a damning indictment of science and scientists in the United States written by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic and formerly chancellor of the University of Chicago.

In sum, Dr. Hutchins tries to prove the proposition that scientists generally, are a bunch of unprincipled liars.

Dr. Wiesner, squirming uncomfortably in his chair as he discussed science and public policy with a visitor, reached for the Hutchins pamphlet.

"Have you read this? Have you read it?" he asked. "This doesn't reflect on science. It reflects on Hutchins. And you can quote me on that."

DR. WIESNER'S analysis may or may not be so. But what cannot be denied in such a counter-attack is that the seeds of an anti-science movement have been sown in the land and may be taking root.

The day before that interview the House, without a dissenting voice, appropriated $500,000 for the first comprehensive investigation of government-financed research ever conducted.

It had already established a select committee under the chairmanship of Rep. Carl Albert, D-Ala., to conduct the year-long probe.

And while the House was taking that action, David E. Lilienthal, the first chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was eating lunch with a group of reporters and advertising his belief that the AEC could easily be reorganized out of business at a savings to the public of $1 billion a year.

teamsters' 12th vice president, Anthony Provenzano, head of all the New Jersey teamsters and high-priced president of the much-filmed Local 560.

Tony Pro did not seem a bit disturbed by the fact that he had been convicted on July 12 of extortion. He was sentenced to seven years in a federal penitentiary and is out on appeal.

Tony Pro went up and down the aisle, giving some of the shop stewards the emporio, pounding their shoulders, all in good fellowship. With him was a relative, "Happy" Reynolds, fairly facile with his fists.

HOFFA SPOKE for 90 minutes. He talked of the marvels of a master contract to cover the highway hauling and city cartage. He told the shop stewards to go out and sell the idea to the membership.

Hoffa Threatens National Strike By Teamsters

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jimmy Hoffa, the nearest thing to perpetual emotion, slipped quietly in and out of New York the other evening, but stayed long enough to reveal for the first time that a national teamster strike now is a possibility.

He wanted no one in the closed meeting of one hundred teamsters' officials to forget that he needed this threat as a weapon.

Until that meeting on the night of Oct. 2, in a well-guarded room of the Hotel Sheraton - Atlantic, Hoffa had insisted publicly that there would never be a national truck stoppage which would put the brakes on virtually everything that moves on wheels.

His avowals that a national strike was unthinkable have been repeated during his 40-month drive for a master contract — which observers at first thought would cover only over-the-road hauling and local city cartage.

But those who know Hoffa's tactics well have put a microscope to his documents recently. It is now apparent that a master teamsters' contract covering the entire nation would affect far more than has been announced. This scrutiny discloses that "related work" also is involved.

OBSERVERS ASK what work is there that is not related to over-the-road trucking or city cartage. Obviously everything is related — from delivering pickles to warehousing tractors and moving space rockets.

Thus the background of the unpublicized meeting in which Hoffa rushed on Oct. 2 becomes dramatically significant.

Actually Hoffa sped into to put down a revolt against him — and a revolt in New York City by men who lead tens of thousands of men is something Hoffa wants to quarantine fast.

This particular episode in Hoffa's itinerary began on the night of Sept. 24 in a crowded hall generously known as Palm Gardens. That evening some 500 members of Teamsters Local 707 — Highway and Local Motor Freight Drivers, Dockmen and Helpers — were jammed into the "Garden."

They listened to one of Hoffa's more eloquent lieutenants try to sell them the idea of voting for a master national contract. If they so voted they would be giving to a Hoffa-led national committee power of attorney to bargain for them.

FORTUNATELY this was not ladies' night. The "teamsters" howled down the speaker in pithy Anglo-Saxon which left no doubt that they wanted to keep their local autonomy. The lieutenant said he would go back and tell Hoffa. They said, bring him and we'll tell him to go to hell too.

They cheered one of their own — Tippy (short and affectionate for Tipperary) Carroll. Tippy, who has guts and who'll tell you he's pushing 60, stood up and said with dignity: "We want no part of you; go back and clean up the house of the teamsters."

Hoffa got a full report. But he did not decide to face a membership meeting. He asked that a shop stewards' meeting be called on Oct. 2. It was. He came and found about 100 men in the hotel room.

Tippy Carroll was there, but no longer surrounded by his cheering supporters. With him was a chap called Jim Bausch. They are two of the leaders of the anti-Hoffa opposition known as the Unity Force.

IN THE ROOM were some 60 to 70 shop stewards of local 707. The others were outsiders. From over in New Jersey, for example, and they weren't shy. They made themselves prominent — muscle and all.

One of the visitors was the

Hancock Lists 6 Brush Fires

Six brush fires were reported in Hancock County Wednesday, including one off Route 66 which burned over several acres.

The blaze on the hillside above the Stratton Dam was spotted about 2:30 p. m. New Cumberland firemen were summoned and in turn called for assistance from the Newell department.

The Newell firemen remained on the scene until 6 p. m. At one time the wind was whipping the flames toward some homes but later switched and carried the fire in another direction.

A fireman said it could have been bad had the wind continued toward the homes. The New Cumberland firemen were called back to the area at 11:25 p. m. when the flames flared again.

New Cumberland firemen also were kept busy with other area brush fires. They were called at 3:30 a. m. today to the Carson oil fields off Hardins Run Rd. on a report of a brush fire. Nothing was found. It is possible a resident extinguished the blaze, firemen said.

Pughtown volunteers were called yesterday afternoon to a brush fire between Pughtown and Hardins Run Rd. There also was another on Hardins Run Rd. between Wiley Ridge Rd. and Tope Hill Rd.

Another was extinguished at noon on the Church property at Pughtown.

Strike

would be binding on both sides, the discharge committee explained.

Provides For Arbitrator

The committee said the IBOP-USFA contract calls for appointment of an arbitrator in cases where the discharge committee is unable to reach agreement.

Laughlin's said its production was suspended completely as a result of the picketing. Hall's and Harker's said they were maintaining operations, but work was curtailed severely.

Management spokesmen agreed the four plants have a combined employment of approximately 2,500, including about 1,400 at Laughlin's.

An apparent truce Oct. 3 allowed production to resume the following day at Laughlin's.

Members of Local 141 agreed to withdraw pickets at Laughlin's on a promise the discharge of the five men would be reviewed and other grievances with management would be negotiated within two weeks.

Banned By Injunction

Pickets has been banned from Homer Laughlin's entrances by an injunction issued in Ohio County Court at Wheeling. The pickets then had taken up posts at the East Liverpool ends of the Chester and Newell Bridge, a move that continued to hold up production at Laughlin's.

Local 141 had contended that its president, Richard Adams, and three members of the local's shop committee were discharged as an outgrowth of the dispute at the big Newell plant. A fifth was involved originally in a dispute over job placement.

E. L. Wheatley, international president of the IBOP, pointed out today the union has "declared this an illegal stoppage and advised every member to return to work."

"Any grievances pending will be taken up through proper procedure under our contract," he added. The president said the international is "doing everything in its power" to restore peace.

Telegram Sent Local

A telegram went out at 4:50 p. m. Wednesday over Wheatley's signature to Local 141 and management representatives. It later was broadcast repeatedly on the radio.

The same telegram went out this morning to all other locals in the East Liverpool area, calling the stoppage "illegal" and instructing members to return to their jobs.

The text of the wire follows: "To all members of the IBOP: Today, the joint discharge committee of the U. S. Potters Association and International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, in accordance with grievance procedure of their joint contract, agreed to follow to the next step of arbitration.

Termed 'Illegal Move'

"Any stoppage of work by the union or layoffs made by management is an illegal move. Any picketing or preventing union members from working or carrying out the strict letter of the joint contract on any pottery under agreement will not be supported or condoned by the IBOP. "We advise all members employed at the Homer Laughlin China Co. or any other pottery to support the advice of the international union officers."

9 At Crucible Retire

ED PRENTICE

Christy P. Walker of Hookstown, with 41 years service, tops the list of nine employees of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. who retired effective Oct. 1.

With 217 years of accumulated service, the employees include three from East Liverpool, two from Beaver, and one each from Hookstown, Industry, Rochester and West Union, W. Va.

Walker, an auxiliary pump operator in the power department, has eight children and 20 grandchildren. He joined Crucible in April 1922, back when the Midland Works had only one open hearth. He was a crane man in the open hearth department, transferred to the blooming mill and later to the power department, where he worked 27 years until his retirement.

Back in the 1920's when industrial baseball teams were popular, Walker pitched and played outfield for the Crucible team.

He plans to spend this winter with his children who reside near Sacramento, Calif., and Yuma, Ariz. Besides two married daughters, he has six sons, three of whom are in military service, two reside in Yuma and another, Leonard Walker of

CHRISTY WALKER

East Liverpool, also works in the power department.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker reside on Main St. Ext., Hookstown.

Ed Prentice, 1211 Erie St., East Liverpool, retired with 35 years service. He was a mill oiler in maintenance - bar finishing department. Also retiring from East Liverpool were William Brock, laborer, 12-18-inch Finishing Mill, with 21 years service, and Dale J. Lorentz, pitman, open hearth, 15 years.

Retiring from Beaver were David B. Bates, spark tester, inspection department, with 27½ years service, and Harold H. Beecher, tool repairman, structural shop, with nearly 18 years.

Frank Rasilo of Industry, chopper, inspection department, retired with nearly 27 years service and Melvin J. Martin of Rochester, field machinist, machine shop, with nearly 22 years.

Virgil A. Yeater of West Union, laborer, retired with 16 years service. Additional September retirees are Guerino Lucchi of Midland, chipping inspector, inspection department, 29 years; Peter J. Charlovich of Rochester, brakeman, transportation department, 22 years, and Nick Hayden of Sloan, blacksmith, structural shop, 15 years.

Falls Injure 6 In District

Falls resulted in injuries for six area residents Wednesday who were treated at City Hospital, along with three others hurt in different mishaps.

David Robert, 15, son of David Robert of Ferry Rd., Chester, received a head injury in a fall on a railroad tie.

Lynn Welch, 14, daughter of Lloyd Welch of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, suffered a laceration of the left leg in a fall from a motorcycle.

Kristie Pelley, 7, daughter of Donald Pelley, 720 Garner Ave., received an injury to the left elbow in a fall at home.

Shelley Fisher, 7, daughter of Harvey Fisher, 416 Grant St., suffered a cut of the left ankle in a fall on glass.

David Vorkapich, 8, son of George Vorkapich, 1572 Pennsylvania Ave., received a cut of the right knee in a fall on cement steps.

Frank Kenny, 63, of 209 Locust Alley was treated for a fracture of the right wrist after a fall at home.

Bernard Shepherd, 57, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, mechanic for the West Virginia Road Commission, suffered an injury to the right foot on which a wheel fell.

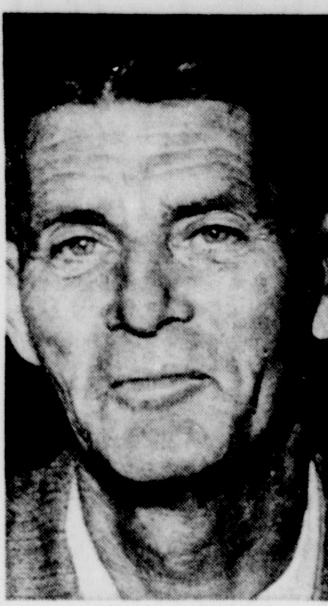

Jeffrey Withroe, 15, of Cannons Mills Rd. received a sprained ankle while playing football.

2 City Students Start Second Year In ROTC

Two East Liverpool students are among 176 sophomores who have started their second year in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at Bowling Green State University.

Gary R. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Raney, 1254 Grandview Ave., has the rank of cadet tech sergeant and is information officer for Valkyries Drill Team.

Robert Heidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heidel, 1233 Cora St., is an airman second class and is a member of Flight B of the 620th Cadet Wing. Both are 1962 graduates of East Liverpool High School.

Walter Patterson Retires As Ohio Power Employee

Walter Patterson, 508 20th St., Wellsville, an Ohio Power Co. groundman whose entire company career was served with line crews working in this area, has taken early retirement in an effort to recover his health.

Patterson was born in southern Kentucky and attended public schools in Flat Lick, Ky., before taking his first job as an employee of the American Tin Plate Co. at Wellsville in 1921. Later, he was employed by the Peerless Clay Co., where he remained until joining Ohio Power in 1937.

His company service was interrupted in 1942, but he resumed his Ohio Power career in 1945 and two years later was promoted to groundman-A, the post he held until he retired.

Although he is an enthusiastic fisherman and hunter, Patterson plans to confine his retirement activities to relaxing.

Patterson is a member of Free Methodist Church at Wellsville. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson have three daughters, Mrs. Pauline Liberator of East Liverpool and Mrs. Amanda Householder and Mrs. Patty Lou Moore, both of Wellsville, and three sons, Walter Patterson Jr., of Hammondsville, John Patterson of Empire and Edward Patterson, a senior at Wellsville High School.

Burglary

Miss Loretta Haney, 1416 Dorothy St.

Miss Haney told police she accepted a ride from two men whom she met in a downtown restaurant.

When she started to get out of the car at her home, the men forcibly took away her purse containing three $1 bills and a package of cigarettes, she said. The two men drove around the block several times, then tossed the empty purse into the yard at her home, the woman said.

Patrolman H. W. Bosworth investigated.

Double-Ring Rites Mark Richardson-Wells Nuptial

Miss Laurine Wells wore a double queen's crown of Alencon lace, seed pearls and crystals when she became the bride of James C. Richardson, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Smith, 247 W. 3rd St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Richardson of St. Clair Ave.

The Rev. John L. Clark, minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. L. Dan Richards, church organist, gave a half-hour recital of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of silk taffeta designed along princess lines. The fitted bodice was styled with a portrait neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A jewel and applique panel highlighted the front of the bouffant skirt. The bustle back, featuring a tailored bow and self rose, swept into a chapel train.

Her crown held a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried the white Bible of her late grandmother, Mrs. Blanch Pattison. It was topped with an arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and satin streamers. In observing the traditions, she carried a sapphire, a gift of her brother-in-law, William Sisley. Her single strand pearls was the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rosalyn Wells and Miss Dorothy Wells, sisters of the bride, were maid of honor and bridesmaid. They appeared in dresses of romance blue peau satin.

Circlet necklines and elbow-length sleeves accented the fitted bodices. Soft unpressed pleats were used at the waistline of the bell-shaped skirts, which were set off by an iridescent taffeta panel of cotton blue at the back, touched with bows of both shades of blue.

Their cotton blue crowns of crystals and seed pearls held flutter veils. They wore matching shoes and white gloves and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations, tipped with blue, hilly-of-the-valley and satin streamers. Their crystal necklaces were gifts of the bride.

James Young of Ada was best man. Ushers were Robert Sharp of Canton and James McLintick of Johnstown. They received engraved cigarette lighters from the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a rough knit sheath, flecked with white, black and brown, with black accessories. Her beige hat

Reight, Mrs. Loretta Hawksworth, Mrs. Ruth Burrows and Mrs. Wilda Shafer. Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 16 at Patti's Tea Room. Lunch was served by the hostess.

BRUSSELS (AP) —Queen Frederika of Greece will not oppose the marriage of her 44-year-old brother, Prince Christian of Hanover, to a teen-aged Belgian commoner, says the father of the bride-to-be.

Armand L. Dutry, wealthy Belgian industrialist, told newsmen in Brussels: "I can say one thing: There is not the least opposition." Mireille Dutry, 17, tall and attractive, fingered her engagement ring—a ruby in a cluster of diamonds—and said:

"I am not afraid of it. The difference in age is of no importance at all."

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — "We must wipe out the disgrace which we have suffered for the past 14 years," Chiang Kai-shek told crack units of his Chinese Nationalist army today.

Speaking to the troops on the 32nd anniversary of the revolution which established the Republic of China, Chiang, 76, said conditions for an invasion of Communist China are ripening.

LONDON (AP) —The Rt. Rev. Ambrose Reeves, former Anglican bishop of Johannesburg, who was expelled from South Africa, will visit the United States for four days, starting Monday.

Bishop Reeves, an opponent of South Africa's policy of racial segregation, will address a meeting of the Episcopal Church at Peoria, Ill., and then fly to New York for talks with United Nations officials.

CAIRO (AP) — Ceylon's prime minister, Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, arrived in Cairo for a four-day official visit to the United Arab Republic.

Her plane was held up two hours at Colombo, capital of Ceylon, after police got an anonymous tip that a bomb was aboard. No bomb was found.

Beaver Local Booster Told Of Extreme Need For Levy

Extreme cutbacks in school operations and parental expenses for books face Beaver Local School District residents unless a proposed 7-mill levy is approved in the Nov. 5 general election, George VanHorne, executive head, told the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night.

VanHorne urged club members to support the levy and to work for its passage for maintaining the school programs.

Unless the financial aid is forthcoming, he said, parents will have to purchase books for the students — books ranging from $3 to over $5 — and the school will have to suspend extra-curricular activities.

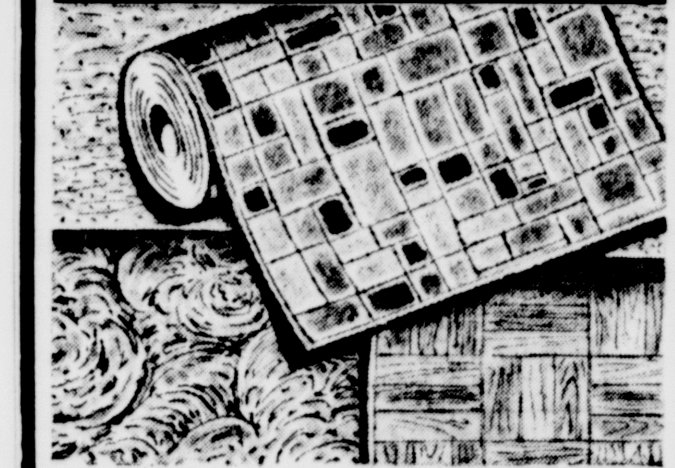

The executive head also said the size of present classes, which have 30 to 35 pupils, will be increased to 45 or 50 due to increased enrollment and fewer teachers.

VanHorne pointed out the district lost one-third of its teachers last year through resignations or retirements, and the present salary schedule makes it difficult to get new instructors.

Arnold Green, board member, also urged backing of the levy in comments at the meeting. "We've got to get people to go out and vote for this," he declared.

LaCroft PTA Carnival Set

Plans were announced for the annual school carnival at a meeting of the LaCroft Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night. John Barnhart, vice president, presided.

The annual event is scheduled Jan. 25 and members of the executive committee will serve on the committees.

Cornell Monda, consulting psychologist for the East Liverpool

Child Counseling Center, was guest speaker and discussed "School Dropouts." He told how parents can play an important part in correcting the problem.

Barnhart introduced Milton Kountz, a member of the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department, who spoke on fire prevention and family fire drill plans. Kountz was named chairman of the playground committee.

Mrs. Margaret Young's combined first and second grade won the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served 80

by the first grade homeroom mothers, with Mrs. Nelma Czech chairman.

Next meeting is Nov. 12.

Mr., Mrs. Karl Kontnier Return From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Lee Kontnier have returned from a honeymoon at Washington and are residing on Densmore Ave., LaCroft, following their marriage the evening of Sept. 21 at 7:30 o'clock in the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene.

The bride was Miss Jerry Ann Hubbard, daughter of Mrs. Sara Stoffel of 4 Line St., Chester, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kontnier, 820 Louise St.

The Rev. Clarence Pelley, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar arrangement of white carnations, gladioli and palms. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Martha White was organist, Mrs. Robert Moore, pianist, and Robert Moore, soloist.

MRS. K. L. KONTNIER
She Was Jerry Ann Hubbard.

Given in marriage by her brother, Frederick Hubbard of Huntington, the bride wore a gown of chiffon over bridal satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a V-shaped neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. Floral motifs accented the bodice and front of the bouffant skirt.

Her round Chantilly veil was attached to a headpiece of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white rosebuds and satin streamers, centered with white orchids.

Miss Gloria Hubbard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a dress of blue peau de soie with matching headpiece and theater veil. Her Colonial bouquet was formed of pink carnations and white roses tied with matching streamers.

Tonya Duke was flower girl and wore a white satin and chiffon dress with pink and white headpiece. She carried a gold and white basket of pink roses and carnations.

David Andrew Betteridge was best man and Robert Kontnier and Roy Dray, ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a floral knit ensemble and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue matron's dress. Matching accessories and white carnation corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 200 followed at the Glenmoor fire hall. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. A pink and white theme of wedding bells, carnations and roses completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Joan Stoffel, Mrs. Anna Flint, Miss Mary Ellen Stoffel, Mrs. George Hughes, Mrs. Helen Rayburn, Mrs. Hilda Allison and Mrs. Eileen Daugherty. Miss Charmil Pugh was at the guest register and assisted the bride in opening her gifts.

Guests were from Toledo, Washington, High Spire, Pa., Wellsville, Newell, Minerva, East Rochester and Lancaster.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Chester High School. Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1959 and is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal party. Mrs. George Bright assisted the hostess.

Rogers PTO Attracts 100

ROGERS — About 100 attended a meeting of the Rogers Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night at the school at which Dr. George VanHorne, Beaver Local executive head, spoke.

VanHorne discussed the proposed 7-mill levy on the Nov. 5 ballot for the school district, and urged support of the measure because of financial needs of the schools.

Mrs. Veronica Wolski, candidate for Board of Education, also spoke.

The third grade taught by Mrs. Dorothea Smith won the attendance award with 36 parents present.

Pupils of the four grades presented a program of songs and music. Christine Stoll played a flute solo, accompanied by Cheryl Hawkins. Donna Lee Hauserman was also a group accompanist.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Peterson, Mrs. James Walters, Mrs. Viola Duncan and Mrs. Beverly Hall. The PTO will meet Nov. 13.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The 60's Can Be Beautifully Young

The fabulous Marlene Dietrich flew into town recently for a singing engagement at Washington's Shoreham Hotel. Could it have been back in the 1930s that the star of "Blue Angel" first captivated Americans?

In person, La Dietrich is surprisingly unaffected and without pretense. The Ida Jean Kain type of question that bores her is "how do you stay so young?" or "what are your glamour secrets?"

Just to keep the record straight, the Dietrich style of glamour is not to be confused with prettiness. She is not pretty. But as the Hollywood photographers expressed it: "What a face, what a face!"

MISS DIETRICH will remain an all-time symbol of that elusive quality termed glamour. Years back when I asked for her definition of glamour she replied, "I think it begins with authority, but that's as far as I can go with it." When I pursued the subject and inquired if the quality could be developed, she said candidly that she did not think it would be worthwhile, since glamour can never stand alone.

When asked what trait she looked for first in a person, she replied "heart." She's for real. . . and her tireless work effort, for which she was awarded the Medal of Freedom, proves that. She took on really tough assignments and, moreover, she had the energy to see them through.

What's the secret of this star's energy? She is blessed with a strong constitution which she backs up with a soldierly discipline. Marlene Dietrich possesses what the French term "elan"—vital, . . . just the opposite of ennui or boredom. She loves her work and lives an interesting, exciting life which in turn sparks her energy.

ON THE domestic side, she loves to cook, enjoys food and eats everything, including liver-wurst. Hearing this last, one reporter turned to your dietitian exclaiming, "There's no story for you here Ida Jean. She doesn't diet!" Such a remark always puzzles me, for it implies that a person couldn't possibly control weight without strict dieting!

This hard working entertainer eats when she is hungry. . . and does not care for desserts. She wouldn't jeopardize her priceless energy by resorting to food fads or diet crazes. She announced that she had gained 12 pounds this past year. Well, I can vouchsafe that she is beautiful to look at; and, yes, her legs are all you've heard about.

Fascinating is the word for Marlene Dietrich. She has that rare appeal that attracts both men and women in open admiration. There is a validity about this artist. She is reassuring proof that the 60s can be beautifully young!

Class Officers Nominated In ELHS Voting

Keith Locke, is president of the council.

Cuyahoga Prosecutor Hits Wiretap Charge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charges that his office is using wiretapping and eavesdropping devices have been termed "absolutely ridiculous and absurd" by Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan.

The charges were made in a taxpayers' suit filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by attorneys Bernard A. Berkman and Jack G. Day, who are law partners.

Berkman and Day charged that Corrigan had purchased and used highly sensitive listening devices and wiretapping and recording equipment but gave no specific incidents. They contend the practice was a misuse of public funds and a contravention of private citizens' constitutional rights.

GETTING ACQUAINTED. "Tammy" and "Pammy," twin Holstein calves owned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Glenn of State Route 2 near Chester, appear to be whispering secrets while one keeps an eye on the camera. The 6-day-old offspring of "J.ane," three-year-old Holstein, are black and white and were born Wednesday morning in a field on the Glenn's 85-acre dairy farm in Hancock County.

Disciplinary Methods Can Be Improved

You have read of the controversy in certain school areas over allowing teachers to use physical punishment when necessary for desirable school discipline. The upshot of the controversy usually is that the Board of Education forbids corporal punishment but allows the school to suspend the worst offenders. This procedure relieves the teacher and school of certain offenders who disrupt orderly conduct and are chronic nuisances in the classroom. But what happens to the suspended youths?

Scattered reports indicate that a good many of them join the army of juvenile delinquents.

AT THE PRESENT rate, the problem will become so serious that more effective measures will have to be taken. It's my guess that something like the following will develop eventually.

Teachers in the elementary grades will be delegated authority to use corporal punishment within humane and reasonable limitations.

When a student of junior or senior high school becomes a serious disciplinary problem he will, on recommendation of the teacher and approval of the principal, be suspended and automatically become a ward of the juvenile court which, in turn, will automatically sentence this offender to from one to three days in solitary confinement in a detention home built for this purpose.

He will have his meals served privately and will have no association with other youths during his period of detention.

After serving this sentence he will be returned to school.

The purpose will be to give the offender an opportunity to think over his mode of conduct, to gain regard for law and order and respect for the authority of the teacher. Such procedure would, of course, require special legislation.

IN ORDER TO be effective, such a plan should give to the school the initial and final authority to send the offender to the juvenile court. The court would be required to sentence this offender to a stated-in-law minimum of detention and limited to a stated maximum.

No strings could be pulled by parents of influence. The designated penalty stated in the law would be inevitable.

There would need to be no trial or court record of delinquency except for the school records. The court would merely be backing up the discipline of the school. The juvenile court would become a substitute for corporal punishment in the junior and senior high school. Such a place should enable the offending youth to become a good citizen and continue his schooling.

With the likely resistance to the foregoing, there may develop, instead, a plan whereby the child suspended from school is automatically assigned to a kind of camp under the guidance of coun-sors for a period of a month or more for emotional, social and moral rehabilitation.

UNLESS SOME effective measures are devised to enable the teacher to maintain law and order at school, it will become harder to hire teachers, and juvenile delinquency will keep on increasing at its present ominous rate.

My bulletin, "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Baptist Church Reorganization Vote Set Friday

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A proposal for reorganization of the American Baptist Church in Ohio is to be voted on Friday by delegates attending the 138th meeting of the Ohio Baptist Convention here.

If a favorable vote is received the reorganization will go into effect immediately and it will make the Ohio Convention only the second in the country to adopt such a plan. The Massachusetts Convention was the first to reorganize.

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Granville, executive director of the Ohio Baptist Convention, said Wednesday that chances for adoption of the reorganization plan appear good, but he added: "You never know about Baptists."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I'm a former customer engineer for a big typewriter company.

I would like to tell your housewives who have typewriters, how to clean the hood (or the painted surface) whether it be wrinkle finish or smooth.

Any good household ammonia will do the job.

We just dampen a wash rag with some household ammonia and start wiping . . .

Immediately all of the newspaper print, fingerprints and carbon paper smudges will disappear. Wipe until completely dry and until all the fumes leave and that's all there is to it. Then just look at your pretty new typewriter cover.

GEORGE PETERS.

It works! Beautiful job.

desserts, if you gals hate to stir gelatin until it's dissolved, use your mixer or blender on low speed. Completely dissolves all the little granules.

Also when arranging flowers in a low bowl if you find they will not stay in place . . . the cure is simple! Criss-cross the top of the bowl with cellophane adhesive tape and let the stems hang down in between the tape.

H.K., PENNSYLVANIA.

By golly, the tape works! Even on a tall vase.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a jar of peanut butter (and I go to the store only once a month because we have a deep freeze), I always store it upside down! The reason is that sometimes the oil accumulates on the top.

P.S.: What do you do when your peanut butter gets so dry with the oil on top and the bottom crumbles?

DEAR E.T.S.: I ordinarily use this for baking. It can be used for cookies, cakes and candy. Try it in chocolate fudge. Also, if you still want the peanut butter for sandwiches you might try varying it by mashing up a banana with a fork or a blender and then putting the peanut butter in and mashing some more.

One can add a little bit of salad oil to it, if you like the taste of peanut butter and want it without any other flavoring.

I have also added orange juice to peanut butter and put it in my blender. It's fantastic!

If you ever want something tart just try grating (mashing or blending) a piece of apple and then mixing it with the peanut butter. This is really out of this world.

Anybody got any more ideas how to vary peanut butter? (Kids live on it and we oldsters like it, too.) If so, send answers to Heloise.

HELOISE.

Court Names Venire Of 25 In Civil Case

A venire of 25 prospective jurors was named Wednesday in Municipal Court for the Oct. 21 trial of a civil case in which the city of Chester seeks judgment for $248.93 against Ronald W. Orr, 644 Minerva St.

The city's action contends the defendant defaulted on a note which he signed to cover the cost of repair to a fire hydrant at 1st St. and Columbia Dr. damaged in a 1961 traffic action. Chester Solicitor William Ingram filed the action. The defendant, represented by Atty. William E. Conklin of Chester, filed a demand for a jury trial.

Prospective jurors names were drawn from the wheel in Municipal Court by Dane Grafton and H. B. Barth, jury commissioners. They are:

Ray T. Ohnzeit, 1258 Pennsylvania Ave., Millie Fay McElhaney, 2111 Crawford Ave., Florence E. Southall, 1956 Dresden Ave., Beverly J. Deshler of Radio Heights, Carl Warning, 1130 Ohio Ave., Florence C. Hall, 1237 Erie St., Frederick A. Blackhurst, 324 E. 9th St., George L. Simms, 2026 Ohio Ave.

Holdup Man Slain After Robbing Tavern

CLEVELAND (AP)—A holdup man, shot in the back as he fled from an East Side tavern he robbed, collapsed and died in a parking lot at the rear of the tavern Wednesday.

Police identified him as Larry E. Robinson, 25, of Cleveland. He clutched a .32-caliber revolver in his right hand and $405 in cash in his left when found in the lot. The .38-caliber bullet that killed Robinson was fired by Edward W. Kowit, 37, owner of Jack's Musical Bar on Cedar Avenue, police said.

Neville Dinner, Bazaar Planned

Mrs. Betty Thorne, ways and means chairman, announced that a spaghetti dinner and bazaar will be held Oct. 18, at a meeting of the Neville Home and School Association Tuesday night.

The event will be held at the school from 6 to 8 p. m.

Suggestions as to school needs were given by Keith Dunlevy, principal.

The Rev. S. H. Estel, minister of the Oakland Free Methodist Church, was in charge of devotions and spoke on "A Little Child Shall Lead Them."

Reports included Mrs. Martha White, program chairman.

The attendance banner was won by Miss Goldenbelle Kelly's sixth grade.

Harold Seever, treasurer, presided in the absence of Robert Wise, president.

Next meeting is Nov. 12.

Imogene Endures The Wibble Wobbles

Imogene Coca, the brightest hobo in the land, shook as she lit her cigarette and it was fear, cold fear. She was telling of the wibble - wobbles she gets with each stunt she is made to do in her new NBC series, "Grindl."

Take last weekend's episode, in which Miss Coca was made to stand in "flames this high and my robe's not fireproof."

Also: "In the freezing, early morning shooting, they doused me with ice water. I had to paddle a rowboat, hop in a lake, get punched in the nose, fall over, get dragged under a bed on a wire (pfft! real fast) and, in a city street, let a passing car brush against my coat. I'm scared to cross the street under the best of conditions."

WAS IT ALL worth it?

"I'll tell you in a few more days," The Coca said, crossing all her fingers. "Actually, it's fun to do things I've never done before - my first pilot, first series, first TV work on film. And there's no frame of references to my past."

"The blink is gone and I haven't put on a tramp suit so far. Grindl has a kind of trade mark in the shopping bag she carries all the time. But she hasn't developed any peculiarities. Not yet."

Imogene naturally wishes her own show well, but the fingers stay crossed.

"I have to sorta say, 'Here it is, I hope.'"

But that's Imogene Coca for you: always with the wibble-wobbles. She had flown in from the West Coast the day before and was still giddy from the flight.

"I CAME IN with a press agent and - the poor girl! - I must have told her my life story five times. Never shut my mouth once!"

"A couple of years ago, flying in from England, I took the hand of the gentleman sitting next to me and gnawed on it all the way. He was very nice about it."

But there's worse. When Imogene is nervous, she loses things. "So far on this trip, I've lost my credit cards, my shoes and my checkbook."

"Before I left Hollywood, the crew gave me a big going-away party. They gave me all sorts of things to lose on my trip, all tagged with my name and address. They even had a tag for me. It read: 'I am Grindl. If Lost, Please Return to Screen Gems.' Now I don't even know where that is."

THE SAME DAY I saw Miss Coca, she was to tape a "Tonight" show with Johnny Carson, and she was almost unstrung over it.

"I'd rather sit on a flagpole than go on that thing," she said. "You think I could not show up?"

She brought a hand to her chin and then began to nibble on a finger. "I know my loose dress won't fit me. I've got to wear a loose dress because I swell up when I'm scared. I'm not good on 'talk' shows. They thrive on gifted raconteurs, and I love things that don't say anything, no words."

"Maybe I could just stare: would that work? Or read a newspaper through the whole thing. Nah."

But the pantomime idea reminded her of her first Broadway show, "New Faces of 1934." Then a serious dancer, she was sitting out a rehearsal offstage with a group of young actors that included Henry Fonda.

"ONE OF THE BOYS sat there, staring dumbly. I had borrowed one of the guys' polo coats and was looking morose. One of us - Henry, maybe - was dreamily snapping his fingers."

"The producer came by and said, 'What are you doing?' 'Nothing.' 'Well, it looks funny.' 'What looks funny?' 'What you're doing.'"

"He put it in the show, twice in the first act and twice in the second - in those same clothes and hats, with the brims turned up."

"I thought the audience would lynch us; but, by George, they laughed! People said I was a comedienne. And I've had to do comedy ever since."

The staring-into-space, no-talk act was used successfully in the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca TV shows, too, she said. And they worked.

Suddenly, the Coca hand flew to the Coca chin once more.

"I just thought!" she said. "One of the 'Tonight' sponsors is an airline! If Carson mentions flying, I'll be just dumb enough to say, 'Up!'"

Kaycees To Hold Holy Hour Rites

Plans to sponsor a Holy Hour, Oct. 27 at 7:30 p. m., at St. Alloysius Catholic Church, were discussed at a meeting of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night at the K. of C. Hall.

The group announced that Corporate Communion Sunday will be observed Oct. 20 during the 9 a. m. Mass.

The local council, along with the Wellsville Council 507, are sponsoring a Columbus Day broadcast Saturday at 6:15 p. m. over WOHI, with a recording from Luke E. Hart, supreme knight.

Members interested in attending the Cleveland Browns - Pittsburgh Steelers game Nov. 10 are to make reservations with Ralph McNicol, grand knight.

Exemplification of the first degree will feature Tuesday night's meeting.

Camp Fire Girl Candy Sale Will Open On Friday

Mrs. Richard Bonistalli, chairman of the ways and means committee of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., announced the annual candy sale will begin Friday, continuing through Oct. 25.

Members of the organization will contact neighbors and relatives for orders to be delivered Nov. 11-23.

Assisting the chairman will be Mrs. Richard Lee, in charge of the downtown and Newell areas, and Mrs. E. H. Seiferth, the North Side and East End.

The girls are working particularly hard this year as 90 per cent of the money will remain in the individual groups to help defray registration and craft expenses, sponsors said.

Neighborhood chairmen assisting are Mrs. Marie Tweed, downtown; Mrs. Ralph Badgley, North Side; Mrs. Mary Galloway, East End; Mrs. Louella Myers, Calcutta; Mrs. J. W. Jester, Newell, and Mrs. Richard Merriman, La-Croft and Pleasant Heights.

Stanton Boosters Buy Team Shoes

HAMMONDSVILLE - Purchase of four pairs of football shoes costing $68 was approved by the Stanton Local Athletic Boosters Club at a meeting Tuesday night in the high school.

The club also authorized payment to John Lawrence for taking movies of the first three football games, and discussed future fund-raising plans.

Joe Ulrich, president, presided. Coach Don McBride will screen films of the Wayne and Springfield games with Stanton's Red Raiders next Tuesday night at 7 at the high school.

Twelve of the 89 enrolled members attended. Next regular meeting is Nov. 12, when officers will be nominated. The election will be in December.

Rayen Appears Strongest Foe So Far For Potter Eleven

Huge Line, Fast Backs Mark Foe

Potter coach Bob Hedmond has high regard for Youngstown Rayen which will be East Liverpool's opponent Friday night when homecoming will be observed at Patterson Field.

"Rayen will be the strongest team we have faced so far this season," Hedmond pointed out. "They are big and have good speed and their line is bigger than ours."

A quick look at the Tiger line shows four starters hitting on or over the 200 mark and the average of the starting offensive wall is 198 pounds.

While the line is big, Rayen has speed in the backfield mainly in the person of shifty Fred Bennett a 155 junior.

THE JET FAST Bennett will be joined in the backfield by Lou Averhart a hard charging 200 pound fullback. Lorenzo Wilson, a 150-pound sophomore is another speedster who needs experience and may give up the right half-back spot to Andy Rossetti, a 165-pound senior.

At quarterback will be senior Bill Poghen (180) who throws quite a lot and has been fairly accurate.

LOOKING across the forward wall, the "beef" is shown in tackles Jessie Lampley (240) and Jay Brownlee (220). Jim Marino hits 217 and will be at center while guard Vince Cizmar is an even 200. Jim Ferraro (170) will be at the other guard post with veteran Oscar Brown (160) and Ralph

Boys Can Still Register For Punt, Pass And Kick

The Punt, Pass and Kick competition to be held at Patterson Field Saturday beginning at 1 p. m. is open to all boys ages 8 through 11.

In order to clarify age qualifications, a boy must be 8 years old before Dec. 29, 1963, and a boy cannot be 12 on or before that date. Thus, if a boy is 7 now and will be 8 on Dec. 29, 1963 he is eligible, but if a boy is 11 now and will be 12 on Dec. 29, 1963 he will not be eligible for competition.

Gerald Manley and Joe McCormack, co-chairmen, wish to emphasize that although distance is important accuracy is most important as any distance off the set line will be deducted from the contestant's score. Also we wish to stress that no football shoes are to be worn. We suggest tennis shoes or sneakers as all future competition will be judged on the tennis type shoes.

This program is a national event and is sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. and the National Football League with Mackall Ford Sales as your local sponsor

U.S., British Golfers Set For Ryder Friday

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Professional golf stars of the United States and Britain clash here Friday in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup series in an atmosphere dominated by the greatest amateur of them all—Bob Jones.

This is Bob Jones' home, and he still is king—not only to his worshipping neighbors but to the present-day giants of the game.

Arnold Palmer is terrific. Julius Boros is an amazing physical specimen at 43 and Peter Alliss of England is one of the all-time stylists. But all of them look to Jones as the emperor.

"Bob Jones is marvelous—an ideal of golfers everywhere," said Alliss. "I am sure he is revered as much in Britain as he is in the United States."

Jones, now 61, confined to a wheel chair by a crippling illness but still keenly interested in the sport which he helped popularize throughout the world, has attended every dinner honoring the Ryder Cup teams.

When Palmer, captain, sends his U.S. team against the invaders Friday at 8 a.m. in the first of 32 matches covering three days, Jones is almost certain to be in the gallery.

As honorary chairman, he will follow play in an electric cart or listen to developments from the club house lawn—"by ear," as he puts it, in referring to the cheers and groans of the gallery.

The Ryder Cup competition, won by the United States 11 of 14 times and never lost on American shores, opens with eight foursome matches. These will be followed by eight best-ball matches Saturday and 16 individual contests Sunday.

Members of the U.S. team, besides Palmer, are Bill Casper Jr., Dave Ragan Jr., Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald, Tony Lema, Johnny Pott, Bill Maxwell, Gene Lattler and Bob Goalby.

Greg Spahn is a promising sophomore halfback at Haileyville, Okla., High School. His father, Warren pitches for the Milwaukee Braves.

Colts, Mets Have Chance To Pick New Talent Today

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Houston Colts and the New York Mets get a chance today to pick up some new players—but chances are even this won't help them much.

Both teams again finished at the bottom of the National League standings and the eight established clubs agreed to help them by letting them buy some more players.

The Mets and Colts were set up in 1961 through a player draft and today's deal will be similar.

Each of the older clubs has listed four players whom the newcomers may buy for $30,000 each.

Yes, but which players? Their names have not been announced, but few are likely to qualify as stars.

One of the men who does know the names — General Manager George Weiss of the Mets—does not seem greatly impressed. Weiss, who will get first choice of players in a conference telephone call this afternoon, said Wednesday night the draft "might be what you'd expect. It's not going to put us in the first division."

Weiss said he might buy a couple of players—he wouldn't name any possibilities—but added "that's an offhand estimate. I still have some calls to make. I want to get hold of some people who know the physical condition of some of these players. We've had enough of that sort of thing."

Some of the Mets' and Colts' original draftees did not turn out to be too sound of wind and limb.

The way this year's plan will operate, a club can close its list after one of its players has been chosen. But it does not have to, and as many as 32 players may be drafted at the price.

Five members of the Cincinnati Reds have been reported as candidates for the draft list. They are pitchers Dom Zanni and Jim Coates, infielder Charley Neal, outfielder Ken Walters and infielder-catcher Gene Green.

Naulls, who had announced his retirement, was purchased from San Francisco for $18,000 and a future draft choice.

Celtics Shoot For Title Without Star Bob Cousy

BOSTON (AP)—The dedicated Boston Celtics have vowed to win a sixth straight National Basketball Association championship and prove the retirement of Bob Cousy will not break the title chain.

"We won't be as spectacular without Cousy, but we'll win as many games—maybe more," predicts Bill Russell, appointed co-captain with Frank Ramsey.

"We're still the champs until somebody proves otherwise," adds Coach Red Auerbach. "Barring injuries, it will be our own fault if we don't win again."

Auerbach is convinced the chief obstacle to an eighth straight Eastern Division crown is Cincinnati.

"Anybody is crazy who doesn't bet on Cincinnati," Red said. "They took us seven full games in the playoffs. Now they have all that talent back plus Jerry Lucas."

The Celtics figure the whole league is tougher and realize there is a gap without "the Cozy."

Yet the team may wind up with best bench ever and not retain a rookie in the process. Willie

Can Giants Stop Cleveland Star?

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Violent Sam Huff, middle linebacker of the New York Giants, sat on the bench in the club dressing room and talked about Jimmy Brown.

"My wife phoned me in Washington Saturday night and asked me if I'd seen him in the Brown-Steeler game on TV," Sam said. "She seemed afraid for me."

There's a sound basis for Mrs. Huff's concern. Her Sam will be one of the chief agents in the Giants' attempts to contain the 236-pound fullback in New York's key National Football League game with the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

The Eastern Conference lead will be at stake. The Browns, bolting along unbeaten under new Coach Blanton Collier, currently hold the lead with a 4-0 record. The Giants, defending conference champs, are 3-1 going into their home opener.

Most of the Giants' concern is with stopping Brown, a five-time league rushing leader who has gained 664 yards and scored seven touchdowns, both league highs.

"I don't think there's a line-backer in the league who can stop Brown playing him man to man," Huff said.

"You don't play him head to head. There are times when he is not involved. There are plays when I do key on Brown, but if we're in a zone defense, my responsibility is the middle.

"If Brown gets outside he's going to hurt you with his speed, but I believe he is more dangerous coming through the line. If you remember 1958 he cut off left tackle and went 65 yards for a touchdown. We're still living with that one."

The Giants have had unusual success against the Browns in recent years and veteran defensive players such as Andy Robustelli and Huff say a large part of it has been due to their ability to anticipate the plays former Coach Paul Brown sent in from the bench.

It's changed this year. Frank Ryan, the No. 2 passer in the league, now exercises his own judgment in most cases and has opened up the offense. As a result, the Giants have spent the week studying films of Cleveland's four previous victories, over Washington, Dallas, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

Keane Would Be Happier With Pennant

HOUSTON (AP)—Johnny Keane says the only thing that would have made him happier than being named National League Manager of the Year would have been winning the pennant.

The spunky little St. Louis Cardinal skipper was named to the top honor among National League managers Wednesday in The Associated Press poll of sports-writers and sportscasters.

"This is great," said the 51-year-old Keane, a baseball veteran who never played in the major leagues.

"The honor is even more pleasant to me because there are so many good managers in the National League."

Keane polled 53 of 71 votes cast with Walter Alston of the world champion Dodgers getting 15 and Bobby Bragan, of Milwaukee, three.

Keane was a shortstop in the minor leagues and worked his way up to manager jobs in the Cardinal system with stops at Albany, Ga., Houston, Rochester, N.Y., Columbus, Ohio and Omaha. Keane's team made a bold late season run for the pennant this year before losing three straight to Los Angeles to finish second.

Bo Belinsky First To Sign '64 Contract

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bo Belinsky, picked by many as the athlete most likely to succeed in getting traded without really trying, turns out to be the first man the Los Angeles Angels have signed for 1964.

Belinsky, in fact, is the first player in the major leagues to come to terms for next season. And nothing could put Bo more hilariously out of character than getting something done early. The only thing he's ever done on time before is buy cars.

Until very recently, Belinsky was just about certain he'd be traded this winter. And if they didn't trade him, he figured, they'd perform so much surgery on his salary he'd be exempted from the federal income tax.

To his stark amazement, he discovered Wednesday that the Angels are dropping neither him nor his wages.

"It's a gas," he said. Belinsky achieved wide public notice last year on two counts. When he pitched a no-hitter against the Baltimore Orioles, he became famous. But when his social engagements kept him from getting home before the morning paper, his employers became furious.

This year Bo pitched no-hitters and many multiple-hitters. He lost seven of his first eight decisions and was optioned to Hawaii in May. He resisted. The Angels cut off his salary. He reconsidered and reported to Hawaii in July. The Angels recalled him in September.

Next year, he promises, he'll be a most changed man.

St. Aloysius Scores 12-8 Win Over East

St. Aloysius turned in a 12-8 victory over the East Junior High 7th and 8th grade team Wednesday afternoon at the East End gymnasium.

John Stepien raced 35 yards for one touchdown and Don Smith went over from the three to pace St. Aloysius.

Mitchell Jones scored East Junior's lone touchdown when he intercepted a pass and raced 15 yards to paydirt. Nelson Clark added the conversion for the Panthers.

Rangers' Goalie Has Long Night Against Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Reay, making his Chicago coaching debut, says the Black Hawks started off their National Hockey League season with a bang—and opposing goalie Jacques Plante will vouch for it.

The Hawks scored a 3-1 victory over the New York Rangers Wednesday night before 14,651 screaming, horn-tooting, paper-throwing fans in Chicago Stadium. The masked Plante, six-time Vezina Trophy winner during his nine years with the Montreal Canadiens, was making his first league start in the nets for the Rangers.

He was banged so hard that he was required to make 40 stops. Eighteen of them came in the first period while Chicago goalie Glenn Hall was making only four. Plante could be considered the hero of the game even in defeat. While he was being stamped the 33-year-old netminder suffered a cut over his left eye and the game was held up 20 minutes in the final period while he had seven stitches taken in it. He said the slash was the result of a collision with Black Hawk wing Johnny McKenzie's elbow.

The only Ranger goal came in the first period as Chicago took a 2-1 lead. Earl Ingarfield stole the puck from Howie Young in front of the Hawk net and beat Hall from close in.

The Black Hawks left for Detroit soon after the game and will face the Red Wings tonight in the only NHL contest scheduled.

Reds' Coaching Staff Is Rehired For 1964

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds coaching staff has been rehired for the 1964 season. President-General Manager Bill Dewitt said today.

The staff consists of pitching coach Jim Turner, batting coach Dick Sisler and Reggie Otero.

Hawks Beats Celts

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks came on after a slow first quarter and beat the Boston Celtics 114-98 in a National Basketball Association exhibition Wednesday night.

W. Va. Small Game Season Set Saturday

CHARLESTON (AP)—The state's small game hunting season will open on schedule Saturday, Natural Resources Director Warden M. Lane said yesterday. Lane added however, that he will close the season Monday if the turnout of hunters creates a serious forest fire problem.

Lane made the decision after reviewing conditions in the state's forest land where timber has become endangered by prolonged dry weather. He said he decided to let the season open on time because many state residents have planned vacations during the season.

The director has authority to postpone or close a season on 24-hour notice if the fire risk becomes too great.

Torres Tops Fullmer, But Disappointed

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—From the mood in the dressing rooms, you couldn't tell who won Wednesday night's Jose Torres-Don Fullmer middleweight bout.

Torres, declared the winner of the slow-starting 10-round scrap, was disappointed with his performance and demanded a return bout.

Down the hall, Fullmer and his brother, Gene, the former middleweight king, were happily posing for pictures and amiably greeting well-wishers.

"I want to fight him again," Torres said. "I want to beat him the way I should. When I was stopped by Florentino Fernandez last May, for my only defeat, I fought better than I did this time. I felt real good but my performance was not as good as I felt. Fullmer is awkward and a tough guy to fight. If I fight him the same way I fought Fernandez I'll knock him out."

Referee Joey Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, scored it 5-2-3. The Associated Press also favored Torres, 6-3-1. Torres consistently beat Fullmer to the punch, particularly over the first seven rounds as he displayed a sharp head and body attack. When Fullmer started to rally in the eighth and ninth rounds, Torres stopped him short with a smashing left that sent him reeling into the ropes.

Torres' record is 26-1-1 while Fullmer, 24, of West Jordan, Utah, has a 31-9-1 mark. There were no knockdowns but at the end Fullmer was bleeding from both nostrils and Torres had a slight cut on the bridge of his nose. Torres had a three-pound weight advantage, 161 to 158.

Speedy Count Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Speedy Count won his 11th straight race in taking the $9,075 Penn's Wood Grand Circuit harness trot feature Wednesday night at Liberty Bell Park.

Gordie Howe Due Awards Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Prolific-scoring Gordie Howe will receive two awards tonight, then skate in quest of new accolades as the Detroit Red Wings open their National Hockey League season with the Chicago Black Hawks.

NHL President Clarence S. Campbell will hand the 35-year-old Howe two trophies—the Hart, for being the league's most valuable player last season, and the Ross, for topping all scorers in the 1962-1963 campaign.

Howe won both awards five times before. His next goal is the career scoring record of 544 goals, set by Maurice Richard, now retired from the Montreal Canadiens.

Howe needs only five more goals to surpass Richard. He figures he'll do it early this season, his 18th season with the Wings.

Fight Results

TEANECK, N.J.—Jose Torres, 161, New York, outpointed Don Fullmer, 158, West Jordan, Utah, 10.

West Virginia's State Officials Eyeing Primary

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Indications at the State Capitol this week seemed to be that all of the state's elected officials except Gov. Barron will be candidates in next May's primary elections. Barron is prohibited by law from succeeding himself.

The five top elected officials of the state's executive branch are Auditor Denzil L. Gainer, Treasurer John H. Kelly, Secretary of State Joe F. Burdett, Agriculture Commissioner John T. Johnson and Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson. They are all Democrats.

The speculation now is that all but Robertson will run for re-election to their present positions.

The 37-year-old Robertson is widely considered as a potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor but he has made no definite statement about his intentions.

So far, there has been little more than distant rumblings from potential challengers for the five positions, although observers feel opposition to the incumbents will develop.

Only one man has formally declared for any of the offices. Sam R. Harshbarger, a Milton attorney, announced several weeks ago he intends to try for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General regardless of Robertson's final decision.

Others considered as possible candidates for various offices include Raleigh County Assessor Cotton White for Secretary of State while former State Treasurer Orel J. Skeen has been mentioned for his old job.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Why do kittens have rough tongues instead of smooth ones like their mothers?

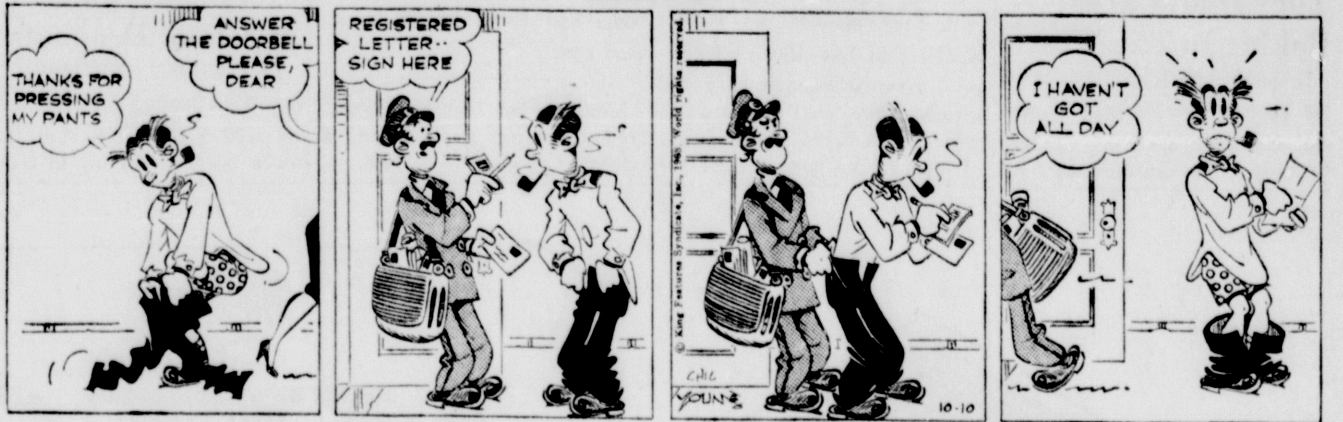

ANSWER: Perhaps the young person who asked us this question has had a hand licked by a kitten but not by an older cat's tongue. The truth is, Jan, that all cats, old and young, male and female, have rough tongues. This is a characteristic shared by all members of the cat family, wild and domestic alike. If you live with a cat in the house you soon learn how important the rough tongue is to them.

There are few animals which have as much instinct for cleanliness as a cat. Cats take great delight in caring for their furry coats. How a cat loves to have its coat brushed! This removes loose hairs, and stimulates the oil glands in the hair, giving the cat the same kind of comfortable feeling you get when your own hair is brushed. About once a day a healthy cat will moisten its paw with its tongue and use this to wash her face. Then she will lick as many parts of her body as she can reach. Here, the rough tongue is of great value, acting as an efficient hair brush.

FOR YOU TO DO: To find out how rough the cat's tongue is, put a little cat food in your hand and let a cat lick it. Also, watch a cat's general expression when you brush her coat gently—she'll find ways to express her appreciation.

Jan Semeria of Redwood City, Calif., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

They Didn't Trust Baking In The West

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When 250 Tennesseans left here by special train for the Billy Graham Crusade in Los Angeles, food for their souls wasn't their only concern. They planned a special breakfast in Los Angeles featuring Tennessee country ham and biscuits. They toiled the ham but needed fresh baked biscuits. Convinced no one west of the them, they had them baked at home and flown by jet to the west coast.

Nautilus, the first atomic-powered submarine, was launched at Groton, Conn., Jan. 21, 1954.

U.S. Grant Aimed At School Dropouts

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Bourbon County School Board has received a $22,800 federal grant for a program to try to reduce dropouts among county high school students.

The money is for the next year. More is forthcoming in the following two years. Kentucky, with a dropout rate in high schools of 42.8 per cent, is second in the nation only to Georgia's 43.2 per cent.

Golden Ruler earned $112,500 when he won the Arlington-Washington Futurity. It was his fourth victory in as many starts.

Michigan State has two brother combinations active in the Spartan sports program. Football has Dick and Jim Proebstle of Canton, Ohio, and cross country has Ray and Russ Fletcher of Ash-tabula, Ohio.
